Walkout Finish Ordered

Production Is Hurt
Badly at Both Ford
And General Motor
Automobile Plants

DETROIT (AP)—Top officers of the CIO United Auto Workers today ordered a halt to a rash of wildcat strikes at General Motors plants around the country, saying they are "sabotaging national negotiations."

The GM walkouts and similar unauthorized stoppages at Ford plants had idled nearly 58,000 workers within the past few hours.

The union's order to strikers came as the history making new Ford contract was being signed by both sides in a brief ceremony. The contract incorporates a modified guaranteed wage plan.

UAW President Walter Reuther and Vice President John W. Livingston sent telegrams to all GM locals saying:

"Unauthorized stoppages have effect of sabotaging national negotiations to the point where the entire membership suffers. Further, the corporation has put the union on notice that it will not negotiate and local managements will not negotiate on any issues at locations where such unauthorized actions occur."

General Motors resumed negotiations with the UAW this afternoon and was reported reading a fresh offer—if it hasn't already in the past 24 hours or so.

GM said a midmorning check listed 38,894 idle at 12 plants.

Ford said 13,250 were off the job in four plants.

The GM troubles were attributed to a combination of anxiety over getting a new contract and local issues.

Similar local issues and dissatisfaction with the newly reached Ford contract were responsible for the Ford walkouts.

Ford's giant Rouge plant in Dearborn sputtered along with only a fraction of normal efficiency. Some 8,000 of the regular 25,000 day shift workers either had refused to report for work or had been sent home.

Leading the stoppage there were tool and die workers dissatisfied over the Ford-UAW contract set-aside employment and making only $2.50 an hour compared with the average $2.10, said they were more interested in wage boosts. They got 8 to 18-cent increases under the contract in addition to guaranteed annual "improvement" raises of six cents.

The Detroit Times said today that top officials of UAW Ford Local 600 at the Rouge plant have appealed to the company to give the skilled workers an additional five cents an hour.

The Ford walkout spread today from Dearborn to the Mercury assembly plant in nearby Wayne. About 2,300 employees were idle there.

Also idle were nearly 3,000 employees at two Ford installations at Kansas City. Production was resumed at Ford's Buffalo, St. Louis and Monroe, Mich., plants, scenes of earlier walkouts.

Kroenke's Band To Play Thursday Night At Liberty Park

Kroenke's Concert Band will play Thursday night at Liberty Park at 8 p.m. with Lloyd H. Knox, directing. The following program will be presented:

"Star Spangled Banner." Key; "Men of Ohio." Fillmore; "Hos-trausers' March." Chambers; "Around the Town." Medley; "Overture." Huff; "Kiss in the Dark." Herbert; and "Valiant Youth March." King.

Following the mid-concert intermission: "Stars and Stripes Forever," march, Sousa; highlights from "Cat and the Fiddle," Kern; "Colonel Miner's March," Rosenkrans; "Nation's Awakening," Denni; and "May the Lord Bless and Keep Thee," by Meredith Wilson.

The Weather

Invigorating weather. Makes a man want to get out and do anything but those household chores he's ducked all winter long.

Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday with scattered thundershowers likely tonight. Low tonight in low 50s. High Thursday in 70s.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 52, 76 at 1 p.m. and 77 at 2 p.m.

The temperature one year ago today, high 87, low 65; two years ago, high 92, low 75; and three years ago, high 90, low 67, with .01 inch of moisture.

NEW MISSOURI WELCOME SIGNS—Signs like this soon will go up at the state line on principal state highways leading into Missouri to welcome visitors to the state. Showing the sign at the Missouri State Highway Commission's sign shop in Jefferson City, Mo., is John A. Luebert, left, and shop foreman Earl Cleton. Twelve of the new blue and gold markers will go up on major locations in a short time, others will follow soon. (NEA Telephoto)

At First Methodist Church Tuesday—

Elinor Van Dyke, Dorothy Ann Johnson Win Wool Style Contest

Miss Elinor VanDyke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank VanDyke, Smithton, won first place in the senior division of the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest held at the First Methodist Church Tuesday. In the junior division, Miss Dorothy Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Houston Johnson, Frisloe, won first place. Runner-ups in the contest were Miss Charlotte Houston, 1601 West 14th, senior division, and Miss Linda Steward, Centerville, junior division.

The "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest is made possible by the Women's Auxiliary of the National Wool Growers Association and the Wool Bureau with Mrs. A. C. Runge, Hughesville, district chairman. The contest is sponsored locally by Sedalia Chapter American Business Women, of which Miss Anna Margaret Wingfield is president, and Mrs. Mary Maddox, ABWA contest chairman.

Miss VanDyke, a 1955 Smith-Cotton graduate and member of Pettis County 4-H, wore a brown suit with white and British tan accessories. Her blouse, hat, and gloves were white while her shoes and purse were British tan. The winning suit was made with a long, unfitted jacket and a straight skirt. Miss Johnson, a member of Benton County 4-H Club, also wore a suit. Her suit was made of blue-brown tweed. The jacket was loose fitting, with three buttons at the neckline and in the back there was an inverted pleat buttoned with a tab. Her accessories were brown and white.

Entries were made in two divisions, juniors for girls 14 through 17 and senior for those girls 18 through 22. There were six senior entries and ten junior entries. Seven entries were made from Smith-Cotton High School and ten of the contestants are members of Future Homemakers of America. Five belong to Pettis County 4-H Club.

The girls who entered the contest were: Marcia Rissler with a navy blue dress; Mary Alice Hutchinson who wore a bright blue dress; Barbara Freund, aqua tweed dress; and Charlotte Houston, copenhagen blue ensemble. All from Sedalia; from Smithton, Elinor VanDyke, a brown suit, and Mary Schwartz, winter white dress and a charcoal grey suit; Myrna Kay Bohon, Windsor, coat-dress of charcoal grey; from Centerville, Linda Stewart and Nancy Atwell, blue dresses; Lou Ann Paxton, with an aqua check dress and a bright blue coat and Patty Jo Finkland, with a grey dress, from Adrian; Patty Hoos, Hughesville, modeled a salmon pink suit; Dorothy Ann Johnson, Frisloe, had a blue-brown tweed suit; and Phyllis Aggeler, Otterville, rose-colored suit.

The garments were judged by Mrs. Gordon Drake, a former home agent, Warsaw; Mrs. Cecil Wyatt, former home economics teacher from Springfield, now living in Sedalia; and Miss Audrey Robertson, state extension agent. The Sedalia Chapter American Business Women Association arranged for a luncheon served by the Ragland Circle of the First Methodist Church. Tables were beautifully decorated with cut flow-

Weather Stays Cool For Awhile, Anyway

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Missouri's temperatures were on the cool side this morning and it looks like they'll stay that way for a while. Readings this morning ranged from 58 at Kansas City to 51 at West Plains, and for tomorrow morning the weatherman looks for lows in the upper 40s in the extreme north to 50-55 elsewhere.

Highs Thursday are expected to hit between 65 and 75 in the north to the 70s in the south.

The forecast calls for scattered showers in the east and south this afternoon and a few light showers in the extreme east tonight.

ers, colorful napkins and needlework favors.

All contestants were special guests of ABWA. Mothers and friends also attended.

The winners in each division were presented prizes by ABWA, radio station KSIS, Connor-Wagoner and Sage's.

All contestants were presented prizes donated by the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce. Needle-book favors for all luncheon guests were compliments of Looney-Bloess Lumber Co.

ABWA presented gifts to the judges, musicians and those giving special help for the contest.

Mrs. T. E. Gasperson presented special music. Ruby Fay Silsby assisted in registration and publicity. Miss Opal O'Brian took pictures of the models during the fashion show.

Other steps aimed at ending the costly strike on the basis of a compromise peace plan framed by the giant Trades Union Congress Executive, the top union authority, advanced rapidly.

Leaders of the TUC, with which nearly all British unions are affiliated, called on Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton to urge government acceptance of the peace formula, which would get wage talks going while the strike still is on. The government so far has refused to negotiate "under duress."

So far there has been no widespread unemployment as a result of the walkout although train service has been reduced to a shadow of normal and delivery of vital raw materials, such as coal and steel to the factories, has been severely throttled.

Many factories have put employees on precautionary notice, reduced the work week and cut overtime to stretch stockpiles.

Responsible industrial sources regarded the meeting between Sir Brian and Baty as a preliminary, with the main object of establishing an atmosphere of good faith and good will before discussions on ASLEF's claim for a bigger pay differential over less skilled workers in the industry.

Both men ducked questions as to whether the government had, or should have, asked for the records on bad batches which the manufacturers threw out. "That will come out later," Scheele said.

Vaccine Hold-Up Certain

Surgeon General
Confirms Probable
Inoculation Delay
During the Summer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele confirmed last night that it probably will not be possible to inoculate all children aged 1 through 19 against polio this summer, as originally hoped.

"Making and testing vaccine is a difficult and delicate process," Scheele said in a nationwide radio-television report on the Salk vaccine situation. "You cannot make viruses meet deadlines. You cannot force scientific work to meet dates on a calendar. And it must be kept in mind that the entire process of manufacturing a batch of vaccine takes about 90 days."

"This is a reason why we can give you no precise estimates of how much vaccine will be available at any given time."

Stressing that the government policy is "safety, not speed, except as the latter is compatible with safety," Scheele told of the studies which led to adoption May 27 of revised manufacturing and testing standards.

He said these standards require some changes in the operating procedures of the six licensed vaccine producers, and continued:

"The manufacturers have assured me that they can and will produce vaccine under these requirements. But I want to make it clear that they will not be able to produce enough vaccine to immunize all children this summer."

A Public Health Service spokesman said that in speaking of "children," Scheele referred to the 1-19 age group. He said there had been nothing to require a change in President Eisenhower's May 31 statement that there will be enough vaccine to give the prescribed two shots to all first and second-graders in the free inoculation program before the peak of the polio season in August.

Expressing anew his confidence in the safety and effectiveness of the Salk vaccine, Scheele said that "experience indicates, however, that there will be scattered local epidemics, and some may be severe."

Scheele and Dr. James A. Shannon, associate director of the National Institutes of Health, yesterday told the American Medical Assn. at Atlantic City, N. J., that manufacturers had not sent the government originally their records, as well as those of good ones, that the government learned of some of the difficulties the laboratories were having.

Both men ducked questions as to whether the government had, or should have, asked for the records on bad batches which the manufacturers threw out. "That will come out later," Scheele said.

Adenauer Asks Advice on Bid By Russians

BONN, Germany (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called his Cabinet together today to study the Soviet Union's surprise invitation for him to visit Moscow. The Russians said "normalization of relations" was their aim.

The Chancellor, staunch exponent of his country's rearmament as an ally of the West, declined last night to comment on the Soviet bid, he was known to be personally reluctant to make such a trip because of his past policy of uncompromising anticommunism.

But pressure mounted from political allies and foes alike. Political circles here generally acknowledged it would be difficult for him to refuse.

Eugen Gerstenmaier, president speaker of the Parliament's lower house and a member of Adenauer's own Christian Democratic party, came out flatly "in favor of accepting the offer of the Russian government to resume diplomatic relations."

The leader of the opposition Socialist party, Erich Ollenhauer, said Adenauer's reaction to the Soviet invitation would clarify whether "the federal government is really prepared to negotiate with the Soviet government over German unity." The Socialists for a long time have demanded negotiations with the Russians.

Vice Chancellor Franz Bluecher, who leads the minority Free Democratic party in the government coalition, said, "We must most conscientiously study whatever can serve possibly to reduce world tension." But he said the government must act "only in full agreement with the powers of the free world who have made possible the present situation."

It was believed Adenauer would take no firm action on the invitation until after his visit next week to the United States, where he will see President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles. He will lunch with British Prime Minister Eden June 19, on his way home.

In Washington, the State Department had no formal comment on the Russian overture. U.S. officials appeared unenthusiastic about any Adenauer-Kremlin negotiations, but they too conceded German refusal would be difficult.

Minor Red Shelling

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Minor Communist shelling in the Amoy-Quemoy area took place today 120 miles west of Formosa but caused no casualties, the Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry said.

In the first shelling since Friday, Red guns fired 16 rounds at Ehrtan, an islet 2 1/2 miles south of Communist Amoy.

The American prickly pear took over 30 million acres in Australia before an imported pest controlled it.

Continue Debate Over Statements In Murder Trial

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Argument continued today on admissibility of three statements by Don William DeLapp as evidence in the convict's murder trial in Circuit Court here.

DeLapp, 19, and six other convicts were charged with the slaying of Walter Lee Donnell, 22, another inmate, during the bloody riots at the Missouri prison in Jefferson City last September.

When the state sought to introduce DeLapp's statement as evidence yesterday they were challenged by the defense attorney, Godfrey P. Padberg of St. Louis. Judge James P. Hawkins of Buffalo excused the jury and began hearing evidence on the statements before ruling on their admissibility.

DeLapp took the stand and testified that he wrote the statements only after state highway patrolmen beat him and threatened to kill him. "They told me I could be found dead and they could kill me and nobody would care," he said. "I told them to tell me what to say and I'd write it down."

James T. Riley, Cole County prosecutor, questioned several patrolmen who testified that DeLapp was not mistreated and that he gave the statements voluntarily in his own handwriting.

St. Louis Boy Goes To Hospital as First Possible Polio Case

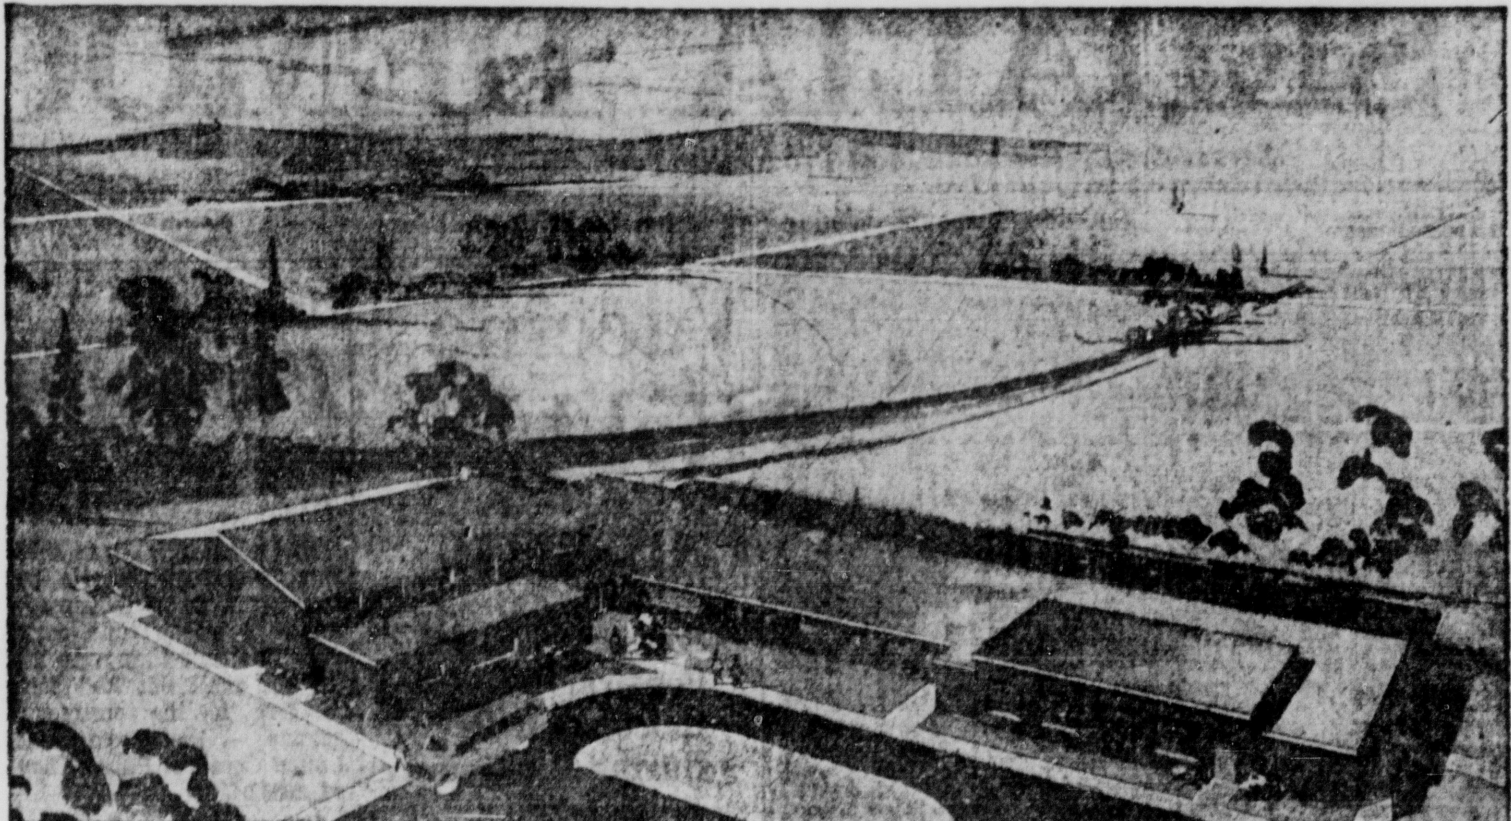

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ernest O. Jones, 7, was hospitalized with the first possible case of polio among 50,000 school children who received mass inoculations of the Salk vaccine in St. Louis.

The tentative diagnosis of polio was made yesterday by Dr. Gene H. Grabu, the boy's private physician. Ernest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones, was taken to St. Louis Children's Hospital.

He received one shot of the vaccine in the school program about a month ago. Medical authorities expressed doubt that the inoculation could have been a factor, if the ailment is polio.

One other St. Louis child contracted the disease in April less than two weeks after receiving two shots of the vaccine from a private physician.

Tennessee Governor Forecasts Landslide Against Eisenhower

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee predicts a sweeping Democratic victory in 1956 and says "I'm one Democratic governor who is going to support the party's nominees — whoever they are."

He told an estimated 2,340 diners at a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising banquet last night that President Eisenhower "prefers government by delegation of authority" and has shown "aloofness to the people."

The 35-year-old Tennessee governor told Chicago and Cook County Democratic organization workers and boosters that all local and regional elections since 1952 point to "a landslide victory on a national level for the Democratic party in 1956; and over anybody."

Chicken Dinner Given To Honor The J. Bagbys

A dinner honoring Mayor and Mrs. Julian H. Bagby was given Tuesday night by the Ever Ready Class of the Epworth Methodist Church in the large dining room of the church. More than 90 members and guests were in attendance at the dinner.

The occasion was to honor the mayor and his wife, who were recently married in Kansas City. Mayor Bagby is a member of the class and is consistent and regular in his attendance at both Sunday School and other meetings of the group.

The Rev. Ralph Emerson Hurd, pastor of the church, is the teacher of the class and he presided over the dinner as toastmaster.

Supervisor of the dinner was W. C. Askew, Sunday school superintendent of the Epworth Church. He was assisted by Mrs. Askew and various members of the class in preparing and serving the meal.

The chicken dinner was served buffet style with Mayor and Mrs. Bagby leading the group. After the dinner a wedding cake, which decorated the table where the honor guests were seated, was cut by Mrs. Bagby and served the guests along with ice cream.

Rev. Hurd lead the group in singing with Mrs. Ross Ewing playing the piano.

Guests present other than Mayor and Mrs. Bagby and members of the class were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ewing, Mr. Ewing being the secretary-manager of the Missouri State Fair; State Representative and Mrs. Milt Overstreet and their two grandchildren, Gary Zinn and Julie Kay Zinn, who are visiting from Lost Springs, Kan., and Mr. and Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton.

Hazel Gray Speaks At Women's Guild Mee

Women's Guild of Immanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church met at the church Thursday.

The mission study group met at 11:30 a.m. under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest Liebel. Following the luncheon at 1 o'clock the regular meeting was held. Mrs. Hersel Bremer gave the devotional and Mrs. Fred Kueck was chairman of the program, "Our Young People: Our Hope for Years to Come." She presented Miss Hazel Gray who spoke on "Youth of Today." It was reported that six visitation calls were made during the month and that 13 pounds of clothing had been sent to the Church World Service program. A party was planned for the boys in Cottage G of Boonville Training School for Boys for June 18.

Mrs. Elmer Maune and Miss Esther Meisenheimer reported on the Regional Bi-Annual held at Billingsville May 12.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Tom Gray, Sr., Mrs. Lawrence Gardner, Mrs. Hersel Bremer, Mrs. William Blatterman and Mrs. Gene Tetter.

Thirty-four members and the Rev. A. F. Klemme were in attendance and two members, Mrs. Harley Vaughan and Mrs. Sebastian Urban were seated at the birthday table.

Mrs. Bremer closed the meeting with a prayer dedicated to Mrs. Layton, president of United Church Women of Missouri, who is seriously ill.

WSCS Meets All Day At Church Thursday

The Women's Society of the Fifth Street Methodist Church met at 10 o'clock Thursday, June 2, at the church with the president, Mrs. F. T. Rucker, presiding.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. George Lovercamp, vice-president, introduced Mrs. Clayton Glasgow, program chairman of the day. Mrs. Dimmitt Hoffman gave the devotional and scripture lesson. A film entitled "The People's Charter" was shown. This film, obtained from the Boonslick Library showed the organization and work of the United Nations. Mrs. H. E. Lindstrom then spoke on the United Nations and told of a visit to the United Nations Building several years ago.

Special music consisted of a duet "He Knows It All" sung by Mrs. George Lovercamp and Mrs. Miles Rhodes.

The meeting closed with prayer by the Rev. Lee Soxman.

Luncheon was served by Mrs. James Harvey and her committee.

Bryson Club Meets At R. Marshall Home

Seventeen members of Bryson Extension Club answered roll June 2 with "How I Would Spend Ten Dollars If I Found It." Mrs. Ross Marshall was hostess.

Mrs. John Campbell presided over the meeting and plans were made for making baskets. Mrs. Harry Ebertening talked on curtain materials and Mrs. Roy Marshall spoke on new materials for upholstery. Mrs. Charles Williams told about rug materials.

The July 7 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Egbert.

Here's a treat small fry like—and it's good for them, too. Put some spoonfuls of diced fruit in a tall glass; add a scoop of vanilla ice cream and a generous amount of orange juice. Add a little sparkling water for a fizz! Serve with an iced teaspoon and straws to your delighted youngsters.

ABWA Learns Of Need For Proper Prison Facilities

Mrs. Bertha Nan Carroll, superintendent of the women's branch of the state prison, Jefferson City, was guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the American Business Women's Association Tuesday evening at Bothwell Hotel. She was introduced by Mrs. Evelyn Rabourn, program chairman, and chose for her topic "Human Relations."

Mrs. Carroll gave a brief review of the facilities which are lacking at the state prison for women and she stated that in order to rehabilitate prisoners the proper facilities must be available. The present prison needs more housing space and a larger medical and educational program. In the past ten years the prison population has increased from 50 to 92 and there is only adequate room for 60 inmates. She suggested the prisoners have separate rooms or maybe have two women share a room. Dormitories certainly are not suitable to a prison, she said.

"If institutions are not schools, they are nothing — as idleness breeds trouble," Mrs. Carroll declared.

Missouri does not allow funds for educational programs but with the cooperation of churches and organizations an educational program has been set up in the institution. Classes in home economics, vocational courses including typing, shorthand and public speaking, along with the regular grade and high school classes, are offered. These are to prepare better the prisoners for her contact with the world after her release. She is taught the right way to work and live and to apply a mature attitude in her home and business.

Missouri needs a more complete medical program, the speaker said. It was pointed out that many inmates belong in mental institutions rather than prisons. In New Jersey the prisoners are given tests and treatment if necessary before being brought inside the prison walls. In Missouri they are sentenced, sent to prison and doctored there.

The prison staff also needs more trained members and Mrs. Carroll urged that Missouri senators and representatives be prompted to take action towards securing better facilities for the women's prison.

The speaker's table was centered with a large bouquet of lilies and larkspurs. Smaller bouquets of garden flowers adorned the other tables. Mrs. Mae Mosier played piano music throughout the dinner.

The invocation was given by Miss Lillian Staley. Miss Anna Margaret Wingfield, president, presented Mrs. Mary Maddox, home economics instructor at Smith-Cotton High School, who introduced Miss Elinor Van Dyke and Miss Charlotte Houston, winners in the senior division of the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest, which the organization sponsored. Miss Houston, who won second place, modeled a blue dress with rounded yoke and which resembled a suit when the fitted long sleeved jacket was worn. Miss Elinor Van Dyke, who will represent this district in the state contest next week, modeled her dark wool suit designed with a straight skirt and box jacket. Miss Van Dyke's mother, Mrs. Frank Van Dyke was also introduced.

Miss Gwendolyn Tuck of the music committee presented Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marks, who sang two duets, "Lover Come Back to Me" and "Make Believe."

As this was "guest night," the chapters from Kansas City, Warrensburg, and Jefferson City were invited. Out of town guests included: Mamie Wilkerson, Jean Mann, LaDonna Vordran, Alice Haskell, Joy McLaughlin, Dorothea Blake, Frances Meisenheimer, Cloe Roberts, Maxine Ardinger, Kansas City; Hazel Schubert, Marie Garton, Ann Brune, Gertrude Reithal, Lenora Doehla, Jefferson City; Miss Stanek and Miss Soph of Warrensburg.

Special guests were Hillary A. Bufton, Jr., executive director of ABWA; C. W. Bufton, national extension director, Florence Barrett, chapter co-ordinator and Mrs. Chloe Roberts, national secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Carroll.

Following the program the local chapter held a short business meeting.

Chiropractors Elect Officers At State Meet

Officers for 1955-56 were elected by the Missouri State Chiropractors Association in concluding sessions of the 42nd convention held in Columbia June 3 through 5.

Dr. H. K. Gilbertson, St. Louis, was elected first vice-president in the top election contest. Dr. E. R. Mullenax, Jefferson City, was re-elected secretary and the following doctors were named to district representative posts: Dr. B. S. McMillan, Kansas City, District 2; Dr. W. W. Devore, Ironton, District 4; Dr. Thomas Guyton, New Cambria, District 6; and Dr. W. E. Bechtold, Troy, District 7.

Other officers were not up for election this year due to the association's system of staggering elections. Serving the second year of their terms are Dr. J. M. Saeger, Lebanon, president; Dr. Ethel Stalling, Pleasant Hill, second vice-president; Dr. W. A. Bonar, Springfield, treasurer; and district representatives Dr. C. J. Schloper, St. Louis; Dr. Charles Hellem, Columbia; and Dr. M. W. Ralston, Carthage.

Almost 300 chiropractors were in attendance at the three day convention. Next year's convention will again be held in Columbia.

The ladies auxiliary of the Missouri State Chiropractors Association also elected officers during the convention. Mrs. E. R. Mullenax, Jefferson City, was elected president; Mrs. R. R. McDermott, Kansas City, was elected second vice-president; and Mrs. E. M. Silver, St. Louis, was named treasurer.

Steel Union Approaches More Firms

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers Union carried its demands for a sizeable wage increase to two more of the nation's largest basic steel producers today.

Union President David J. McDonald continued in personal charge of negotiations as the USW brought its wage requests before officials of Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the Republic Steel Corp.

Bethlehem and Republic are the nation's second and third largest steel makers respectively.

The demands being made of them are the same as those McDonald presented yesterday in the opening of steel wage talks with U. S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest producer. Sessions with others of the "big six," who employ about two-thirds of the 600,000 basic steelworkers, are slated for tomorrow and Friday.

McDonald hasn't announced the USW demands but observers say they amount to approximately 25 cents an hour more than present average earnings of $2.33 an hour. The negotiations are limited, under a reopening clause in a two-year contract signed last June, to wage rates only. That bars demands for a guaranteed annual wage.

The same observers predict that the final settlement with the robust steel industry will be for about 12 1/2 cents more an hour.

The union will be free to strike June 30 if an agreement is not reached by then. But a strike is believed unlikely. Both McDonald and U. S. Steel President Clifford H. Hood have expressed hope for a "speedy, peaceful settlement."

The union is to present its proposals tomorrow to Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. and to Youngstown Sheet & Tube Corp. and on Friday to Inland Steel Corp.

Wins Divorce After Trying Four Times Against Peruvian

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—On the fourth try, Mrs. Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney Henry Gabaldoni, New York heiress, has won a divorce from Peruvian diplomat-journalist Luis Emilio Gabaldoni.

Dist. Judge Frank McNamee awarded Mrs. Gabaldoni, 30, a decree yesterday after a jury upheld her contention that Gabaldoni deserted her three years ago.

Gabaldoni, 43, now believed to be in Switzerland, had demanded a jury trial.

The judge also gave her custody of two children, Barbara, 8, and Luis Vincent, 5. They are believed to be in Europe with their father.

Mrs. Gabaldoni previously had lost or dropped three suits against her husband in Peru, Argentina and Mexico. She is a daughter of Barclay Henry and a niece of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney.

Democrats Overturn Long Republican Rule

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Democrats overturned Republican town rule in Lincoln by electing all five members of the town council, solidly Republican more than half a century. The Democrats also carried the biennial town election in South Kingston, for the second consecutive time. Until 1953, South Kingston had always voted Republican.

City Employees Face Another Payday Minus Money; Licenses Due

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—More than 175 East St. Louis city employees face another payday without pay on Friday.

Finance Commissioner Dan Foley said yesterday the employees would have to wait until about $100,000 in tavern and night club licenses are paid before receiving their salaries for the May 16-31 period. The money is due July 1.

The workers — policemen, firemen and some city hall employees — are paid from the general fund which is depleted. Similar situations have developed here in the past.

Residents have refused to approve a higher rate of taxation. The city already is taxed to the legal limit, 246 cents per $100 property valuation.

City officials have an eye on the state capital at Springfield where pending legislation would return a portion of sales money to Illinois cities.

Menon Talks With Ed On Possible Formosa Peace; Third Meeting

LONDON (AP)—V. K. Krishna Menon conferred with Prime Minister Eden today on prospects of a Formosa settlement between Red China and the West. It was their third meeting in six days.

The Indian diplomat, who recently conducted discussions with Red Chinese leaders in Peiping, flies tonight to North America for a round of meetings with Canadian leaders in Ottawa, and with U. S. leaders, including President Eisenhower, in Washington.

No official word has yet been heard on the nature and scope of Menon's discussions with British government chiefs. It has been reported, however, that he has been trying to enlist British support for a program intended eventually to bring Red China and the United States together in a conference about the future of Formosa and other issues of East-West tension in the Far East.

Arranges Concerted Action Against Grasshopper Menace

By MERLE VAUGHAN

Extension entomologists have said that if concerted action is not taken to destroy the grasshoppers in the hatching beds that damage this summer will be terrific. People are already calling excitedly about them in their gardens.

Arrangements are being made at the extension office for a concerted drive in every community in the county. All groups including 4-H clubs, home economics clubs, community clubs, rural churches, PTA's, school boards and neighborhood groups are urged to participate.

The county 4-H Club Council voted unanimously at its quarterly council meeting Tuesday night to endorse and participate in the project. In addition 12 clubs took out material Tuesday night. They are Flat Creek, Georgetown, Hughesville Happy Helpers, Manilla Willing Workers, Maplewood 4-H, Pleasant Green, Prairie Ridge, Smithton 4-H, Stokley Busy Bee, Striped College, Tanglebrook and Windsor Willing Workers.

Groups are being urged to circulate community sign-up sheets where neighbors indicate their intention to control the grasshoppers on their farms. Since there are savings in buying the insecticide in quantity, signers will have the opportunity to indicate the amount of dieldrin and aldrin they will need.

The cost of the material per acre is small with dieldrin (a new insecticide) costing about 40 to 50 cents per acre and aldrin about 50 to 60 cents. Latest recommendations are that aldrin can be pastured in two weeks and dieldrin in three weeks. Hay crops should not be cut within three weeks of spraying.

Besides the sign-up sheets, an effort will be made to place one of the recommendation sheets on control with spray or bait in every farm home. These sheets are also available at the extension office and at the various insecticide stores in Sedalia. The sign-up sheet is printed below. It should be mailed to Extension Office, 118 1/2 West Third, Sedalia.

COMMUNITY SIGN-UP SHEET

Realizing the need of community action to fight the present grasshopper infestation which is the heaviest since 1936 and possibly the heaviest in the history of Pettis County, I agree to cooperate with my neighbors by spraying fence rows, road ditches, waste areas, pasture and fields as needed to clean up the grasshoppers before they spread from their hatching areas.

Realizing, too, that there is a decided saving in the buying of insecticide in quantity, I have estimated my present insecticide needs according to recommended rates per acre and have listed my needs following my name. (Dealers can give a relatively large discount on 50 and 100 gallon lots in 5 gallon cans. The Extension Service recommends it be purchased that way so the containers are already adequately marked.)

If I accept the poison from the community pool in bulk and put it in an unmarked container, I agree, in the interest of safety, to mark adequately each container.

British Make It Clear Adenauer Is Barred From Direct Deals

LONDON (AP)—The British Foreign Office made it clear today West German Chancellor Adenauer is barred by agreements with the Western powers from negotiating with Russia either to reunite Germany or to conclude a peace treaty.

A spokesman said, however, the British government has complete faith in Adenauer's wisdom and is not worried about what would happen if he conferred with Soviet leaders.

The spokesman said there is no legal objection on the part of the Western powers to the establishment of diplomatic relations between the Bonn Republic and the Soviet Union—which Russia suggested yesterday—or to the ending of the legal state of war between the two countries.

The spokesman added that informal Western consultations on the Russian move already have begun between West German, American, British and French diplomats.

Court Upholds Libel Verdict for Author Against Columnist

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals has upheld the $175,000 libel verdict in favor of author Quentin Reynolds against columnist Westbrook Pegler and two Hearst corporations.

The opinion, written by Judge Harold R. Medina, was announced yesterday. The decision was unanimous.

The award of punitive damages last June 29 followed a jury trial of charges by Reynolds that he had been libeled in a column written by Pegler Nov. 29, 1949. The verdict assessed damages of $100,000 against Pegler, $50,000 against the Hearst Corp., and $25,000 against Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc. The jury also awarded Reynolds a token $1 as compensatory damages.

Pipeline Must Refund If FPC Upholds Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. must refund more than 36 million dollars to its 50 wholesale customers if the Federal Power Commission upholds a ruling of an FPC examiner, Edward B. Marsh.

The customers are in Kansas, Missouri, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Michigan.

Examiner Marsh ruled that Panhandle, of Kansas City, had charged excessive rates from Feb. 20, 1952, to April 30, 1954.

The decision is subject to review by the FPC within 30 days.

The rates collected under bond totaled $183,289,471. Marsh ruled that Panhandle was entitled to $146,908,806 under "fair and reasonable" rates for the 26-month period.

GM Employees Remain Away From Their Jobs Despite Return Order

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Employees of the Fisher Body and Chevrolet plants of the General Motors Corp. stayed away from their jobs today despite union orders to return to work.

Pickets remained at the two plants in northwest St. Louis and about 1,500 men, members of the day shift, stood outside, refusing to cross the lines.

The removal of the picket lines and a back-to-work movement this morning had been ordered late yesterday at Raymond C. George, secretary of Local 25, CIO Auto Workers Union.

Night shift workers started the strike action here and set up picket lines which day workers refused to cross yesterday. Operation of the plants was halted.

George said the strike was unauthorized and resulted from a misunderstanding among members over a strike deadline. The union's contract with GM, which was to expire last midnight, was extended until Sunday midnight during Detroit negotiations.

The National Education Assn. says the United States has a deficit of 340,000 classrooms in its public schools.

Police Halt Workhouse Inmates' Riot

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police using tear gas broke up a short-lived prisoners' riot at the St. Louis city workhouse late last night after inmates set fire to mattresses, ripped out plumbing and smashed windows.

More than 100 policemen confined the outbreak to one cell block. Firemen quickly extinguished the blaze started with burning mattresses.

Two of three high police officials racing to the scene from the municipal opera were injured in an automobile accident. No one was hurt in the riot.

Warden Harold E. Baynes, appointed to the post last April, said the riot followed distribution of circulars to prisoners announcing that visits would be restricted to "immediate relatives."

"I think the 17, 18, 19 and 20-year-old boys didn't like it because I was cutting off visits from girl friends," he explained.

Injured in the accident en route to the workhouse were Chief of Detectives James Chapman and Police Inspector George Parker. Both were hospitalized. Col. I. A. Long, president of the Board of Police Commissioners, escaped injury and continued to the workhouse.

Shouting, yelling and general tumult erupted in a cell block known as the "Old House." A barrage of flaming mattresses, broken benches and debris at first prevented police from entering the block. But once tear gas was employed, the riot was quickly broken. The whole thing lasted about an hour and 15 minutes.

A total of 250 prisoners were in the block, all but 50 in their cells during the disturbance. The 50 got out of the cells when a guard was trying to return a work detail to their cells.

New York Mayor Feels At Home in London Without Any Trapping

LONDON (AP)—New York Mayor Robert Wagner has found that he can get by in Britain even if he doesn't have the ceremonial robes and chains of office the British expect mayors to appear in.

The visiting New York mayor wore white tie and tails last night at a banquet given in his honor in the ancient Guildhall. But London's lord mayor, Sir Seymour Howard, in his official costume outglittered his transatlantic visitor.

"They didn't seem to mind that I just don't have an insignia of office," Wagner said. "I explained that we just haven't got them."

Wagner, whose casual manners have both charmed and surprised Britons, told newsmen that "every-one has been so gracious to my wife and me. People have been wonderful."

Wagner and his wife were received by Queen Mother Elizabeth earlier yesterday. They also attended the opening of Parliament.

Railroad Workers Ask For Increase in Wage During US Prosperity

CHICAGO (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen said today it will ask the nation's railroads for a $2.50 daily wage increase for its 215,000 members.

The announcement was made by W. P. Kennedy, president of the brotherhood, following a meeting of the union's wage committee in Chicago.

Kennedy said notices will go out June 16 to the 300 railroads with which the Brotherhood holds contracts.

The demand will be "across-the-board" for all classifications under the union's jurisdiction, Kennedy said. These range from passenger brakemen currently earning $13.45 per day to footboard yardmasters at $19.07.

"The nation is experiencing great over-all prosperity," said Kennedy, "and it's only fair that railroadmen share in it."

Adenauer Adds Three To German Cabinet

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's three new cabinet members — Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano, Defense Minister Theodor Blank and Hans-Joachim von Merkatz—were sworn into office today.

The ceremony was conducted by Eugen Gerstenmaier, president of the Bundestag (lower house of Parliament). Appointments of the new ministers were announced Monday, when Adenauer gave up his second post as foreign minister to put more drive behind the organization of the new West German defense forces.

Von Merkatz was given the junior post of liaison between the Cabinet and the Bundesrat (upper house).

TINY HEATER IS HOT ITEM—The Fiesta drive-in restaurant, in Milwaukee, Wis., is the first such place located in the cold zone of the U. S. to be equipped to operate on a year-round basis. Secret is those "boxes" extending over the restaurant's 50 drive-in bays. Inside each is a new heater that can warm up both patrons and cars. They are porous, and by an infrared process each can throw upwards of 1600 degrees of heat against the object without heating the air between. A German invention, it has been used throughout Europe for such purposes as cooking, heating factories and melting ice. A license has just been granted to a Cleveland, Ohio, stove company to manufacture and distribute the heaters.

Plan New Round Of Trade Tariff Cutting By US

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional sources said today the United States plans to embark shortly on a new round of tariff cutting under authority given President Eisenhower in a compromise foreign trade bill nearing final passage.

Senate-House conferees agreed on the measure yesterday, breaking a month long deadlock. The final product is considered acceptable to Eisenhower.

The chief new power would authorize the President to cut tariffs up to 5 per cent a year over the next three years or to lower to 50 per cent any duties now above that level. This is the first new grant of tariff-cutting power since 1945.

It also would extend the 21-year-old reciprocal trade agreements law for three years, to June 30, 1958, the longest extension in a decade.

The compromise bill is to come up first in the House early next week, then in the Senate for final legislative action.

Congressional source said the United States is likely to participate in a new international bargaining conference within about six months to make use of the new power to cut tariffs. The reductions would be offered in return for similar concessions from other nations in trade pacts.

Expect Supercarrier To Be Ready Late '55

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy expects delivery of the 60,000-ton supercarrier Forrestal late this year—the first of five ships of that class to cost an estimated 973 million dollars.

However, the first of this new class flattop—largest of any Navy vessel—is not expected to join the operating fleet until sometime next spring. A long shakedown period is necessary first.

Present estimated cost of the Forrestal, without her planes, but with armor and armament, is $197,859,000. This, the Navy says, is a substantial saving over the originally estimated cost of 219 millions.

Portland Man Is Arrested In Kidnap Try

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Jesse Moore, 63, who was to be married next Sunday and needed money, has been charged with attempted kidnaping.

Detective Capt. William Browne said Moore, a machinist, had admitted trying to kidnap a 6-year-old grandson of a millionaire Portland industrialist.

Moore was taken into custody shortly after an intruder broke into the home of Mrs. Lillian Weinstein early Monday and tried to grab one of her twin sons to hold for $20,000 ransom.

The intruder was driven off by Mrs. Weinstein and her mother, and he fled by diving head-first through a window. But he left behind the ransom note and a gun.

Moore identified the gun as his and said, at first, it had been stolen from him the night before.

But after extensive questioning yesterday he broke down and admitted the attempt, Browne said.

Moore became acquainted with the Weinstein family through Mrs. Grace Clancy, whom he was to marry next Sunday. Mrs. Clancy lives next door to the Weinsteins.

It was Mrs. Clancy who recognized the pistol that the intruder left in the Weinstein home. She recalled she had seen it in Moore's house. She called Moore to tell him of it and he then reported to the police that the gun had been stolen.

Later he identified the gun as his own, Browne said.

Bail for Moore was set at $20,000.

Mrs. Weinstein, a divorcee, is the daughter of S. J. Zidell, head of a machinery and supply company here.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Learn How to Pull Together

Saw a kid go by the Clarion office on a brand-new coaster wagon yesterday—and it reminded me of when my brother and I were about forty years younger.

Our folks weren't poor, but there wasn't enough to buy two wagons for Christmas. We got one between us. Dad made a rule that we each could have it for a week—but the boy with the wagon was responsible for keeping the kitchen wood-box filled.

Seemed a bargain to Bud and me—at first. But soon we discovered it was no more fun playing alone than working alone. It wasn't long before we were sharing the wagon in return for sharing the chores.

From where I sit, you can't enjoy a privilege yourself if you're going to deny it to others. There are some folks who want the right to enjoy their favorite beverage—but would deny me my right to an occasional glass of beer. I doubt if such people get their full "share" of happiness, though.

Moniteau R-VI Passes Bond Issue Tuesday

Residents of Moniteau County school district R-VI voted Tuesday their approval of a $397,000 bond issue for a school building program. The final count for the district was 832 affirmative votes to 331 against the issue, surpassing the required two-thirds majority. The polling by towns in the district was: Tipton 603 for to 227 against, Syracuse 113-50; and Fortuna 116-54.

The approved bond issue is to provide for a new high school building in Tipton and remodeling of the present structure for use as a grade school, construction and furnishing of an addition to the grade school building at Fortuna, and furnishing of the grade school building at Syracuse.

L. W. "Mike" Billingsley, president of the district's school board, reported that construction will begin as soon as present preliminary plans, such as blueprints, have been approved. He also stated it should take about one year to complete the approved school building improvements and construction and that the program of work should be completed by Sept. 1, 1956.

The additional tax levy for the program will be 65 cents per $100 assessed property valuation in addition to the present $1.95, for a total of $2.60 per $100 valuation.

Immediately after the announcement the issue had passed, about 8 p.m., Tipton high school students, along with the high school band, formed a spontaneous parade and marched through the town. After they were done there the groups traveled to Syracuse and Fortuna to celebrate and show their appreciation for passage of the issue.

Vote to Exempt Gas Producers from US Regulations Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Commerce Committee voted 16-15 today to exempt natural gas producers from federal regulation.

The vote was on a motion to report favorably to the house a bill by Rep. Harris (D-Ark) to remove Federal Power Commission controls over producers' prices for gas sold to interstate pipelines.

Before the final tally, the committee first voted 17-14 to reconsider a 14-14 tie vote yesterday which would have shelved the measure.

Backers contend the Harris bill, while relieving producers of "red tape" controls, at the same time provides an indirect method for the FPC to keep wellhead gas prices within a "reasonable" limit and thus protect consumers.

But opponents protest that passage almost certainly would result in higher consumer gas bills.

Battle lines are drawn generally between congressmen from the gas producing Southwest and those from the large gas consuming cities of the East and Midwest.

Coupon Trouble LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—D. L. Stone nearly had himself promoted right out of the filling station business. He signed an agreement with an advertising agency under which it would sell $14 worth of services and supplies on a coupon book plan for $3.50.

Stone figured 75 to 100 of the books would be sold and he'd gain some customers while providing the services. Instead, about 2,000 books were sold and his station was so swamped with the coupon-clippers that he had to close down.

He reopened later and is trying to work his way out by having the coupon holders collect their services on an appointment basis.

Impartial! DENVER (AP)—Frank Gould, City Council candidate, is a man he took a campaign poster to a who won't take no for an answer. He asked proprietor Lionel Zinn for permission to tack it up. Zinn said no, he didn't want to take sides.

Gould returned the next day with his poster and for his opponent, Sonny Mapelli.

The posters were tacked on the tavern wall.

MAN, WHAT A BREEZE!—This giant, five-bladed propeller stands on a dock at Newport News, Va., evidence that water transportation, though age-old, is still vital in this jet age. Too large for railroads and too heavy for highways, four of these 70,000-pound propellers were shipped by barge from Philadelphia. Twenty-one feet in diameter, the cast manganese-bronze propellers were designed for the super-carrier USS Forrestal.

Lutherans Of Mo. Synod To Meet June 13

Delegates from the 300 congregations of the Western District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, comprising the states of Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee and part of Kentucky, will meet in convention at Concordia Seminary of St. Louis June 13-16.

This year's convention is the first to meet in the second century of the district's existence.

Pastors, parochial school teachers and laymen will discuss matters of business affecting the 122,000 members of the congregations they represent. They will hear an essay on "Interpreting the Signs of the Times" by Dr. Alfred M. Rehwinkel, professor of church history and ethics at Concordia Seminary of St. Louis. Dr. Rehwinkel will speak on the rise and spread of Communism in the world today, the unrest and rising of the dark races in every part of the world, and the church's responsibility in the world situation.

The convention will begin with a divine service on Monday, June 13, at 1:30 p.m. The preacher will be Dr. Arnold H. Grumm, second vice-president of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, and pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Fargo, N.D. Dr. Grumm will also report to the convention during business sessions on the work of the Synod throughout the world. Presiding at sessions will be the Rev. Theo. A. Weinhold, president of the Western District and pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church, Kansas City.

The congregations of the Sedalia Circuit will be represented by the following members: Sedalia, St. Paul's by the Rev. Walter Strickert and Al Schreiner; St. John's, Cole Camp, by Red Brockmann; Holy Cross, Cole Camp, by the Rev. John Deye and Edwin Holtzen; Stover, St. Paul, by the Rev. J. C. Execution Ends Strange Prison Life

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — There was nobody to claim the body today of the man death house guards called their "strangest prisoner."

He was William Henry Meyer, 65, who died at 12:06 a.m. in the electric chair for the murder of his daughter. One of the oldest men ever to be executed in Texas, Meyer went to his death as unafraid as he was unwanted, witnesses said.

"... In the name of the Father, the Lord and the Holy Ghost" he was heard to mutter as death chamber attendants placed a black hood over his head.

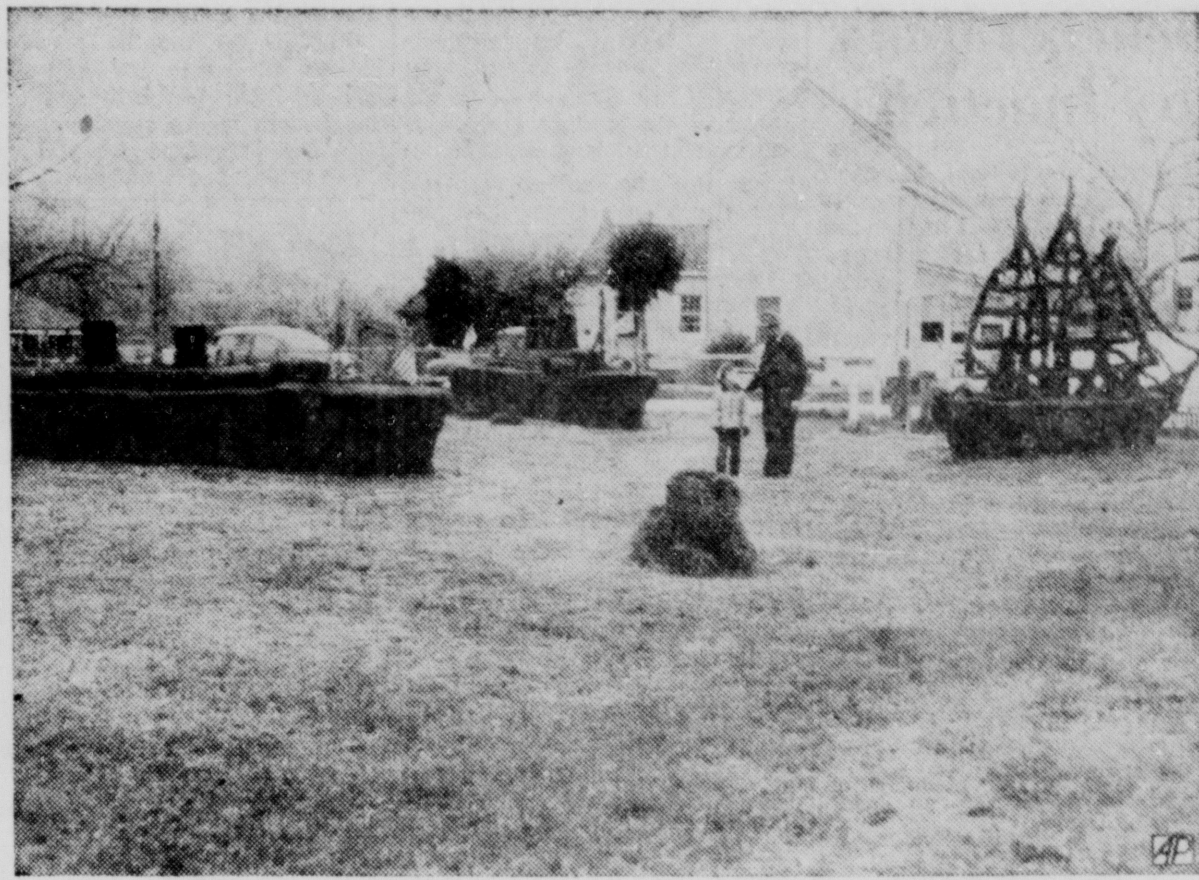

"Those were his only last words," a newsman witness reported.

Meyer, who had received no letters and written none since becoming prisoner in the state penitentiary here, made none of the usual "last request" traditional with condemned men. He also refused to order the usual sumptuous last meal.

Guards who called him their "strangest, coolest customer" said he cooperated with them perfectly. They tagged him "The Man With the Iron Nerve."

A prison chaplain and a doctor tried at the last minute to get him a stay of execution. "I don't want a stay," Meyer said. "I'm ready to go."

He was attempting to shoot his estranged wife June 12, 1953, when his daughter Mrs. Elsie Yearwood of Houston, was fatally shot. The two women, terrified, were huddled behind a door at the home of another of Meyer's daughters. His third shot through the door killed Mrs. Yearwood.

Will Try Out Wingless Craft At Emporia Runway Friday

EMPORIA, Va. (AP)—Charles Pritchard, a railroad engineer by profession, is set to try out Friday a wingless aircraft he developed because he remembers "once when I had to walk five miles from an airport to town."

A mile-long runway at Emporia airport will be the scene of the test by Pritchard, who says he's worked "to develop something like this for 10 years for air travel and highway travel."

The initial test flight will be tried under the supervision of P. R. Steinman of Richmond, aviation safety agent for the Civil Aeronautics Administration. Government officials also are scheduled to be on hand.

Pritchard, an assistant gang foreman for the Virginia Railroad who also is a licensed pilot with about 600 hours of flying time, explained his aluminum craft has been designed as a combination aircraft-car.

It looks something like a plane minus the wings. The "rocket air ship"—as Pritchard calls it—is 21 feet long, 98 inches wide and weighs about 800 pounds. He figures the craft can be taxied on roadways.

The body of the plane is made entirely of aluminum. Each side has baffles (or fins) of varying length. From a technical standpoint, Pritchard points out the fins "hold air in the proper channel over the hull of the ship to give the hull its lift."

Pritchard says the craft has some characteristics of airships (lighter than air), airplanes and helicopters. Ailerons for changing directions in flight are on the sides of the plane.

Conventional equipment on the wingless craft includes a tricycle landing gear, metal propeller, 90-horsepower engine and flight instruments.

Pritchard worked in general production for Goodyear Aircraft in World War II.

If the tests prove successful, Pritchard says he wants to start commercial production—preferably in this area of southern Virginia. He says the cost so far has been about $1,500—not including the hundreds of hours he's put into its development.

Pritchard has been an employee of the railroad since 1924 except for his wartime work in the aircraft industry.

Predict Atomic Power Plants in 20 Years

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Atomic power isn't going to cut into the petroleum business for the next 20 years, says the president of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey.

M. J. Rathbone made the prediction last night in an address at Louisiana State University.

Rathbone said one third of new power plants built 20 years from now would use atomic power, but this would be only 1.5 per cent of the total world power needs.

Soviet Doubletalk On Newspaper in Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviets say their newspaper in East Germany, Taegliche Rundschau, will shut down July 1 but it looks as if the East German Communists actually are taking it over.

The East German government news agency ADN last night announced the paper's closing. It said the Soviet government would turn over the printing shops, buildings and other property to "competent organizations" of East Germany free of charge.

The Western Allies discontinued their Berlin newspapers several years ago.

Koreans in Protest

SEOUL (AP)—Korean war veterans, 200 of them, battled with police an hour today in anti-Japanese demonstrations. The melee took place in front of the Capitol as leaders shouted "Charge" to the veterans who sought to see President Syngman Rhee. They carried banners demanding "Stop U.S. aid to pro-Communist Japan."

Medical Team Believes Many Ills Are Caused by Inactivity

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—May be your aches, pains and tensions are due to hypokinetic disease.

That means lack of motion or exercise.

And there's evidence, a medical team said today, that lack of exercise makes you a more likely candidate for heart attacks, for diabetes, backaches, tensions or "nerves," fatness, stiff neck and a few other ailments.

The case for exercise and physical fitness for health and longevity was presented to the American Medical Assn. by Dr. Hans Kraus, Miss Bonnie Pruden Hirschland and Dr. Kurt Hirschhorn of the Institute for Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, New York University.

They cited studies, some of them their own, showing:

Heart attacks are twice as common among London bus drivers, who sit down all day, as among bus conductors, who move about.

Fifty six per cent of several thousand U. S. children couldn't pass six simple muscle tests, as against 8 per cent of European youngsters.

Among 5,000 adults with backaches, 80 per cent had no organic or physical difficulty, but couldn't pass six simple exercise tests for strength and flexibility of key muscles for posture. Given some corrective exercises, their backaches disappeared.

The medical team said the physically inactive person shows signs of aging earlier than the exercisers. Nonexerciser is less well equipped to meet stresses and sudden emergencies.

Underexercising "may well contribute to organic disease by storing emotional tension and producing all the diseases associated with stress," the report declared.

It said some studies find a great er tendency in the physically inactive for ulcer of the duodenum or first part of the intestine, for cancer of the lung, appendicitis, cancer of the prostate gland, diabetes and cirrhosis of the liver.

Diabetics who exercise need less insulin, and have fewer blood vessel complications, Kraus said.

He said "lack of movement plays a more or less important role in varicose veins, thrombophlebitis (clots in veins), hemorrhoids and muscle atrophy."

"To protect the health of the individual, and the safety of the nation, it is imperative to increase physical activity from early childhood through old age. The medical profession should restore physical activity and exercise to its proper place in the treatment and prevention of disease."

Apache Debutante Ball Lasts Longer Than White Version

By HAL BOYLE
MESCALERO, N. M. —Leaves from a touring notebook:

Many a Park Avenue father heaves a sigh at the cost of throwing a debutante ball for his daughter.

But he'd break down in tears if he had to foot the bills for introducing her to society on an Apache Indian reservation.

A debutante ball lasts only a single evening under the white man's idea of what makes a good party. The Apaches have a more muscular and red-blooded approach.

When an Indian father announces he has a daughter who is ready to set up tepee-keeping, it isn't just a shindig for a few close friends of the family. The whole tribe shows up. And the feasting and celebrating goes on for four days and nights. When the Apaches have themselves a ball, they like to bounce some real echoes off the mountain.

The "Coming of Age Ceremony" of an Apache maiden, usually held when she is 12 to 14 years old, in the old days was a time when the nomadic tribes fulfilled their religious as well as social obligations. The rites drew the wandering groups together, gave them an occasion to swap tall tales of the hunt, exchange gossip and renew their ancient beliefs by the mutual performance of rituals.

In the simple past when buffalo were plentiful the warriors in the Indian maiden's family usually found it reasonably easy to provide meat for a four-day feast. But with the price of beef what it is today the situation has changed. Few Apache fathers now could pick up the tab for a daughter's debut. So the tribe itself throws the party.

Only one girl, Iva Lee Enjady, 14, will go through the social ringer at this year's annual festival, July 1-4.

As of old, she will have her own ceremonial tepee. Her hair will be washed with yucca root suds. She will wear a buckskin dress and two tall feathers from a female eagle, signaling her entrance into womanhood. If she itches she must use a wooden scratcher, as she mustn't during the entire four days scratch any part of her body with her fingernails.

She also must not look up at the sky or be disobedient in any way, for fear of bringing rain clouds. To assure her of a good appetite through life she will be fed wild fruit marked with a cross of yellow pollen. She will also be anointed with the pollen.

The maiden, whose buckskin dress is adorned with tiny tin bells, will perform ceremonial dances inside her tepee before an audience consisting of her family, close friends, and the more religious-minded members of the tribe.

Each night young braves will perform the traditional "Dance of the Mountain Gods."

During the entire period little Ivy Lee must wear a grave, dignified expression. She must particularly beware of excessive laughter. The Apaches have a theory that too much laughing causes premature wrinkling, a theory that now also seems prevalent among many lady palefaces who never saw a reservation.

In other days at the conclusion of the ceremony the happy father presented attendants and medicine men with four valuable gifts—usually a male horse, a saddle, a fine piece of buckskin, and some tobacco.

The gifts will probably be different now. Many Apaches, once among the hardest-riding of Indian tribes, no longer would know quite what to do with a horse. They prefer to ride herd on their cattle with a jeep or a pick-up truck.

Urban Plan Up For Vote

Acceleration of the Sedalia Urban Area plan of highway and street improvement was given by City Council authorizing a resolution and ordinance drawn calling for a special election Tuesday, July 26.

The bond issue for this project would be $250,000.00, money which primarily would be used for right of way and construction costs. Federal-aid and State-aid on this project would amount to approximately $2,500,000.

City council's action to press for early determination of the voters on the Urban plan was stimulated by the expression of public interest in this ten-year program of street and highway improvement shown by appearance before that body of the president of the Chamber of Commerce, chairmen of both the Republican and Democratic parties, representatives of the Building Trades Council and other civic leaders, all of whom spoke wholeheartedly in favor of the Urban plan.

Previously the Chamber of Commerce had polled its membership and 26 to 1 replies favored the report on the Urban System for Sedalia prepared by the Missouri Highway Commission, Division of Surveys and Plans, in cooperation with the Department of Commerce, Bureau of Public Roads.

The basic purpose of this report is to develop a system of urban highways in the City of Sedalia which will serve to expedite external travel into and through the city and accelerate the movement of internal traffic and to relieve major internal traffic congestion.

The present policy of the State Highway Commission in regard to Urban highways requires city cooperation in requesting the Federal Bureau of Public Roads to place the general locations of the highways selected from this report in the Federal Aid Urban System. That is one of the main reasons for early action on this report—to get Sedalia on the list and in priority standing. Five months have already gone by without Sedalia going on record to support the plan by its own bond issue of contributing funds.

This is a long range improvement program which will only move when and as money, materials and labor become available and conditions are right. If these conditions occur before Sedalia has backed up the project with its own bond issue, then the Commission's hands would be tied insofar as Sedalia is concerned—and some other community in a priority position would get primary attention.

On Federal-aid projects the Highway Commission will request the Federal government to pay one-half of the cost of all right of way for the urban project, and the City will pay for all right of way costs which are not paid by the Federal government.

In general, the State will match Federal funds for the construction of Urban projects.

Many local civic organizations have endorsed the Sedalia Urban Area report following a season of explanatory news articles and talks by highway officials. City council has rightfully responded to favorable public sentiment and called for an early election on the $250,000 bond issue.

Regardless of the initial indication that such a bond issue will be favored by the voters, the mechanics of getting out the vote on July 26 should be undertaken with decided seriousness. An apathetic approach to this non-partisan bond election could be fatal—and Sedalia cannot afford to let this happen.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round— Doubt Much Russian Progress In Yugoslavia

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The chancelleries of Europe plus the diplomatic corps in Washington have now had a chance to get a slow double-take on the historic Belgrade conversations at which the Kremlin made amazing obeisance before Marshal Tito.

Chief conclusion they draw is that the problems facing the Kremlin behind the Iron Curtain are much more serious than the world had thought, and that the Soviet is playing from a position of weakness, not strength.

For a long time reports of unrest have come out of Russia—of farm inefficiency, political dissension and almost silent revolution. These now appear to be confirmed. The situation inside Russia may be similar to that when Hitler invaded in the early days of the war at which time 3,000,000 Red soldiers surrendered because they welcomed the Germans as saviors.

Unrest in the satellite countries is even worse, which obviously is why the Kremlin bosses swallowed their pride and went hat-in-hand to Belgrade. They had to try to win the satellite rebel back into the fold.

Other conclusions of the Belgrade conference were that Soviet Premier Bulganin is little more than a well-dressed flunky and front man; that Communist Secretary Khrushchev more than ever runs the show; that Khrushchev is an ignoramus and a swashbuckler who really believes his own propaganda; that Andre Gromyko, the dour young former ambassador to Washington, is on his way to become foreign minister of Russia.

Soviet Gains Doubtful

Whether the Moscow team made any progress in Belgrade is highly doubtful. Khrushchev, it seemed, really expected Tito to keel over, wag his tail and come barking back to the fold like a lap dog. He was rudely shocked by the rebuff.

The people of Yugoslavia seemed equally unimpressed. They greeted the Moscow rulers in stony silence. Years of being under Stalin's thumb had brought no desire to return. On the whole, U.S. State Department observers are encouraged.

The joint chief of staff, on the other hand, got panic-stricken when first reports came from Belgrade, and our military men wanted to cancel all military aid to Tito overnight. The State Department, however, said no. There may be an Allied conference with Tito to see exactly what the score is, but at first blush the State Department figures Tito is sticking with the free world.

Note 1—Political conditions behind the Iron Curtain are not to be confused with military preparedness. There is no question but that the Russians are ahead of us in long-range jet bombers and may be ahead of us in guided missiles. Their over-all air strength may be just about equal to ours.

Note 2—When U.S. Ambassador Jimmy Riddleberger asked Khrushchev whether he would attend the Big Four conference "at the summit" he replied with a wink: "Of course not. After all, I'm not a chief of state."

Under Dulles' Nose

If John Foster Dulles really wants a bipartisan foreign policy he should take a look right under his own nose at his own State Department.

There he will find that the public relations expert attached to Senator McCarthy's friend, Scott McLeod, is Hal Short of Portland, Ore. And if he looks further into the campaign records of the last election he will find that Hal Short was paid $16,300 and is owed another $17,000 for political publicity in Oregon in the 1954 State race.

This total of $33,300 was obligated by the Citizens-for-Eisenhower Committee in an effort to defeat Sen. Dick Neuberger, Democrat, whose vote in the Senate and that of his friends necessarily is important to Secretary Dulles.

Foreign Policies

Also important is the fact that Dulles' assistant, Hal Short, appears to be definitely in violation of the Hatch Act.

Publicity man Short began working for Secretary Dulles in July, 1954, just as the Oregon election was beginning. Yet he spent part of that time campaigning in Oregon. Presumably he got around the Hatch Act by drawing $50 a day from Secretary Dulles on a per diem basis, so he could work one day at politics, another day in the State Department.

This does not exactly make for a bipartisan foreign policy, but it might keep Short out of trouble with the Hatch Act—were it not for one thing.

On Dec. 3, 1954, after the Oregon election was over and Neuberger had won, Short participated in a conference with Senators Dirksen of Illinois, Jenner of Indiana, Barrett of Wyoming and Potter of Michigan to try to unseat Neuberger. The strategy was to get a recount of Oregon votes.

December 3, the day of this conference, was one of the days Short was listed as working for the State Department.

Of course, if Short were prosecuted under the Hatch Act, some of the senators who were present might have convenient memories and forget he was there. But Short went further—he gave a statement to Mervyn Shoemaker of the Portland Oregonian in which he said: "We are confident that there were mistakes in the counting. How much they would affect the totals we could not tell without recounting the ballots."

He went on to add that Senator Jenner of Indiana had promised that his Elections Committee would accept a petition for a recount.

All this political activity, in clear violation of the Hatch Act, occurred when Short was listed on the State Department rolls as working for Secretary Dulles who claims he's anxious for a bipartisan foreign policy.

It will be interesting to see what, if anything, the Justice Department and/or Secretary Dulles do.

Meeting the Problem—Head On

The World Today— Gains May Cause Labor Split

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press news Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Are big labor unions heading for the day when, by their very success in winning benefits for their members, they no longer can get the support of those members in a showdown with a company or industry?

This much can be taken as a truism:

The bigger the stake a worker has in the company which employs him, the bigger his reason for not wanting it to suffer loss or ruin, as it might from a strike.

By a strike is meant such things as a pension, with the size of it based on years of service and earnings; company stock which a worker may own; the medical and hospital bills which a company pays; and so on.

The CIO United Auto Workers has just negotiated an impressive contract with the Ford Motor Co. For a time the company offered to let its employees buy Ford stock. This offer did not become part of the contract. The company may make the offer again.

In time UAW may obtain a contract—covering stock ownership and better pensions, guaranteed wages and pay scales—which may profoundly affect workers' attitude toward the company and make them more conservative.

Suppose then the UAW made demands for some new benefits which, while nice to have, were far less than those already obtained. Would the workers strike to win them, taking a chance on losing everything, just to back the union?

Unions may face that problem some day. An old question arises: Can any union be effective if it can't back up its demands?

Perhaps in time the role of unions may have to take a form not now discerned. For example: What happens when a company lets union members buy its stock? Is their allegiance then divided between company and union? Or do they, through the union, demand a voice in running the company to protect their investment?

In the future workers almost certainly will tend to be tied far more strongly to companies which guarantee them 52 weeks' pay a year, work or no work, and have good pension plans. Such workers will have abundant reason to stay with one company and in one town or city.

With an assured future, they can make their own long-range plans, such as in home buying and educating their children. It seems reasonable to believe that the more deeply workers' lives get tied into the success of a business, the more conservative they will become.

Peiping Contradicts UN Charge of Murder Of 2 South Koreans

TOKYO (AP)—Peiping radio today contradicted a United Nations Command report which said the Reds shot and killed two South Koreans in the Korean armistice demilitarized zone June 2.

The U.N. Command said formally the two were shot "without warning" on the Allied side of the demilitarization line and said one body had been dragged to the Communist side.

Red China's official radio said the two Korean victims were among "more than 10 agents of the American side" who sneaked into the demilitarized zone with a truck and wounded one Communist civil patrolman.

Then, Peiping said, Red Chinese civil police counterattacked in self-defense and killed "two of the invading agents."

Mississippi Angered Over Slashing of 3 Youths in Washington

MACON, Miss. (AP)—Angered officials of Noxubee County want to send the Mississippi National Guard or state patrol to Washington to protect touring high school students from "Negro savages."

They made that request yesterday in a telegram to Gov. Hugh White and Senators James O. Eastland and John C. Stennis.

They referred to last Saturday's slaying of three youths from Lulu, Miss., by two Negroes on a downtown Washington sidewalk. Police in Washington said they could find no evidence the Mississippi youths provoked the attack.

Two of the youths were hospitalized but were not injured critically.

As Sedalia Sees It—

Mumbo Jumbo About Russian Strength Has Familiar Ring

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—All this mumbo jumbo about Russian strength and intentions has a familiar ring.

It's ever so much like the talk that filled Washington before the outbreak of World War II. Only the jargon is fancier now. Nothing so simple as you can't do business with Hitler. Competitive coexistence is the subject for debate today.

And just as there were many eminent citizens who thought you could do business with Hitler, so there are now many eminent citizens who think you can do business with Russia after a fashion. For example, there's John Foster Dulles, the Secretary of State. He once said it was possible to deal with the Nazis. He now seems to be inclined to the theory that it's possible to deal with Russia.

Remember the Nazi air shows and military pageants that impressed visiting American experts such as Col. Lindbergh and Maj. Al Williams? The recent May Day flypast in Moscow, in which the Russians flaunted their big jet bombers, apparently stunned our Air Force officials. All that was missing was a report of some anxious attaché scribbling notes on his cuff. (Before World War II attachés always took notes on their cuffs. This charming practice has probably been abandoned because shirts with detachable cuffs are generally unavailable. Possibly, though, there's a shortage of starch in Moscow.)

American reaction to the Kremlin circus was prompt. Defense Secretary Wilson said we wouldn't lose control of the air. He didn't envision any increase in plane production either. Two days later the Air Force announced production of B-52 bombers was to be jumped 35 per cent.

Germany, you'll recall, wasn't going to be able to fight any war. Oil shortage. The Nazi war machine was shackled because of that shortage. Thousands and thousands of words were devoted to the subject. And when that vein had been exhausted, several ingenious analysts discovered other crippling shortages of a more esoteric nature. Wolfram, or some such substance, was in very short supply. The Nazis fought anyhow.

Russia, so we are told, is short of food. This is a most inelegant shortage. But any day an expert will probably remedy the situation by announcing a critical shortage of some obscure substance has immobilized the Communist war machine.

Our officials frankly admit these days that Russia's capability has been seriously underestimated. The Communists built an A-bomb more quickly than was believed possible. Ditto for the H-bomb. Thus the May Day flypast was the culmination of a series of shocks. It is quite possible there will be a swing to the other extreme, and Russia will soon be pictured as an evil monster of unlimited capability.

That's about the way it was with Japan. Before World War II the Japs were dismissed as unimaginative copycats. There were many fashionable stories about how their faulty copied cruisers would capsize if a broadside were fired. Later the Navy decided Jap cruiser designs were among the world's best. In the end, we puffed up the Japs so, that when they were beaten we refused to believe it. Dropping the A-bombs, according to some authorities, was the equivalent of shooting a corpse.

Dr. Jordan Says—

Severe Case of Sunburn Is Uncomfortable, Dangerous

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

The old saying "the burnt child fears the fire" apparently does not apply to many grownups who get themselves painfully sunburned year after year. In many parts of the North American continent (apologies to California, Texas and Florida!) the sun is pretty weak during the winter months and the residents of our cities and towns lose most of their tan. But a goodly proportion seem to forget their vulnerability to the strong sun of late spring or early summer and spend the first bright Sunday or holiday trying to make up for lost time.

The inevitable result is a few absences from any big office the next day and the appearance of others shining like a beacon light from sunburn. This really does not make much sense. A severe sunburn is not only uncomfortable but can be dangerous.

A sunburn is of no earthly benefit to health. When the skin is burned by sun the outer layers are killed and have to be replaced from the layers below. After a severe sunburn the outer layers are shed in sheets and pull off. The dead outer layers do not get any benefit from the sun and actually prevent some of the good which is desired.

The sun's rays are necessary for the growth of plants and help in maintaining the health and well-being of human beings and animals. One of the benefits which the sun can give is to aid the human skin to produce a substance called vitamin D, which is necessary for complete good health and which prevents rickets in children.

A brown, tanned color is the result of the deposit of a pigment or coloring matter in the skin called melanin. This helps to protect the body against getting too much from the sun's rays. When the skin becomes pale it means that there is not much melanin present. Melanin is not deposited in the skin at once on exposure to sun but takes time.

A white skin, therefore, is not so well protected against the sun as it is when good tanning is present. Until the skin is protected in this way it can be burned by the sun in almost exactly the same way that it can be burned by any other hot substance.

People who are not accustomed to much sunlight and do not show tanning should be careful about the first few exposures. Falling asleep in the sun is particularly risky!

Several ointments or lotions can be placed on the skin and do protect somewhat against rays of the sun and promote tanning rather than burning. A person with a pale skin, however, cannot safely feel that to do this will give absolute protection against burning.

American Men More Courty

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — American men can take a bow. A French beauty says they're even more polite than her countrymen.
This is a strong statement, Frenchmen being noted for their continental manners. But actress Nicole Maurey, visiting America for the third time, makes this observation:
"I think American men are much more courtly at all times. They remember the little things, like opening a door for a woman and helping with her wrap. Those are the things that every woman loves; she wants to be pampered and made comfortable."

"To the Frenchman, such matters are not too important—unless he wants to make love to the girl. Then no one can beat him for politeness."
"But to the American, courtesy is an everyday concern. It is part of the difference of attitude. Here the woman is important. In France she is not so."
Despite her feelings about the woman's position here, Nicole is not ready to settle in this country. She feels it is bad for an actress' career.

"I think a European makes a mistake to stay in Hollywood and wait for jobs," she observed. "If the studios know you are here and not working, they think there must be a reason. But if you keep active in Europe, they will send for you."

That system has certainly operated in her case. She had acted in a score of French films when William Perleberg, George Seaton and Bing Crosby came to Paris. They were seeking a girl to play Nicole's French wife in "Little Boy Lost." Nicole won out over numerous hopefuls.
She came here for the Crosby film, then hustled home to France. Paramount hailed her back for a publicity tour on behalf of "Little Boy Lost." While here, she was dubbed to play opposite Charlton Heston in "Legend of the Incas."

Producer Hal E. Chester was seeking a European to play an Italian girl in "Battle Hell." He sought Nicole in Europe, discovered she was here, signed her. Now she's costarring with Mickey Rooney, Wendell Corey and Don Taylor.

What next? She's going home to France, of course, and wait for the next call from Hollywood.

Dean Martin Explains Reasons for Splitup With Partner in Tiff

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dean Martin says that all the publicity about his "misunderstanding" with his partner Jerry Lewis "makes me look like a heel."
Martin is heading to Hawaii for a vacation with his wife, Lewis is in New York to attend the premiere of the team's latest movie. It's purely a temporary parting of the ways, Martin said yesterday. He said he and Lewis will remain together as a team.

Martin said a misunderstanding developed when he refused to go to the movie premiere, to be held in a Catskill Mountain resort where Lewis was once a busboy, because he felt that most of the limelight would be on Lewis.
He didn't know Lewis was going alone until after his departure, Martin said. "I'm not mad," he said. "But naturally I'm upset. All this publicity makes me look like a heel."

Diem Pledges All-Out Effort In Hao Hao War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem pledged in a radio speech to the nation today to liberate west Viet Nam from rebellious armies of the Ho Hao religious sect.

Diem said the national army's operations against troops of Ho Hao Generals Tran Van Soai and Bacut were proceeding satisfactorily.

"The disintegration has begun and will continue in the days that follow," he declared.

Some 20,000 army troops launched an all-out offensive against Soai's force Sunday, hemming them into a 275-square-mile marshy triangle about 90 miles southwest of Saigon.

Soai's force originally was estimated at about 5,000 men. The government said yesterday about a third of this group had surrendered.

Bacut, whose name is Le Quang Vinh, has been attacking government forces farther to the west of Saigon. Government sources said yesterday the national army is stepping up its operations in that area also.

Proposed Bond Issue For Hospital Defeated

CARROLLTON, Mo., (AP)—A $950,000 bond proposal for a Carroll County hospital was defeated in a special election yesterday. There were 1,684 votes in favor and 1,339 against the proposal, which failed to get the required two-thirds majority.

DemoHousing Move Clears First Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic move toward construction of public housing at a rate almost four times as great as that President Eisenhower recommended topped its first big hurdle yesterday.

As part of an omnibus bill to continue federal housing programs for another year, the Senate voted to authorize 135,000 low-rent public housing units in each of the next four years. Eisenhower had asked authority for 35,000 units for each of the next two years. That is the number authorized this year.

Democrats had raised the figures in the Senate Banking Committee, and a move by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) to trim the program down to the size the President had asked lost 44-38, generally on party lines.

The bill also would permit the Public Housing Administration to carry over into the next fiscal year, starting July 1, some 20,000 units authorized for this year but not yet built.

The federal government does not build public housing projects. It guarantees to meet the difference between the low rents charged tenants and the cost of paying off mortgages and upkeep. Actual construction money is raised by bonds issued by local housing authorities.

The 540,000-unit program still has an obstacle-studded path ahead. The GOP fight for the smaller administration figure will undoubtedly be resumed in the House. And the actual funds will be voted in a separate appropriations bill. In the past, the appropriations committees have frequently recommended funds for far fewer units than are authorized.

The Senate housing bill, passed 60-25, provides also for four billion dollars in additional authority for the insurance of private home mortgages by the Federal Housing Administration. The present ceiling of $2,500 on home improvement loans would be raised to $3,000.

Moslem Fanatics

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Soekarno today scheduled a weekend visit to terrorist hot spots in west Java after attacks by Moslem fanatics in which two persons were killed and 181 houses burned. Indonesian troops killed one and captured five of the terrorists. They were members of the Darul Islam movement which seeks to establish a Moslem state in Indonesia.

Ups and Downs of the Cards
Ride With Musial's FortuneBy ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Those St. Louis Cardinals may be only in fifth place, but with Stan Musial starting to hit again, things may be getting better any day now.

Stan's had his usual slow start so far, but he's perked up when the Cards needed him most. He's up to .317 as of today, moving up in a 13-game revival in which he's hit .375.

It was Musial who in early May kept the Cards from sinking into seventh place by getting 3 for 5 against Philadelphia in a 6-5 St. Louis victory. On May 27, the day he started his current upswing, he had 2 for 3 as the Cards beat Cincinnati 7-4 and jumped to fifth.

Then on May 29, once again in sixth, the Cards pulled back into fifth by beating the Redlegs 7-2.

Musial had just one hit—but it was a three-run homer.

Last night, the Redbirds again were on the verge of slipping into seventh place. And voila! Musial smacked 3 for 5, drove in three runs and scored himself in a 5-4 triumph over the Phils.

That eased the Cardinals into a fifth-place tie with Cincinnati after the Redlegs had been blanked by the first-place Brooklyn Dodgers 4-0.

Brooklyn stayed eight games up as the runner-up Chicago Cubs came from behind with four runs in the sixth to beat Pittsburgh 4-3 while the resurrected Milwaukee Braves knocked New York's Giants out of third 13-4.

In the American, the New York Yankees remained 4½ games out from while losing to Detroit 4-3 in 12 innings. The Chicago White Sox—rained out in their game with Baltimore—slipped into second place .005 percentage points ahead of Cleveland as the Indians lost to Boston 9-5.

The only other AL action went to Washington, with the Senators sweeping a two-night twinbill at Kansas City 3-2 and 7-3.

At Philadelphia, Musial's two-run double in the first chased starter Curt Simmons, and his triple in the eighth drove home the winning run off loser Murry Dickson. Harvey Haddix won his third with relief help from Frank Smith after giving up earlier two-run homers to Del Ennis and Jim Greengrass.

Brooklyn missed hitting a home run for the first time in 13 games, but the Redlegs managed just five hits off Johnny Podres, who won his sixth.

Milwaukee clobbered the slumping Giants with six runs in the second that sent Johnny Antonelli to his seventh defeat. The Braves got five more in the ninth as Chet Nichols won No. 5 with help from Warren Spahn.

The Giants, now half a game back of the Braves, lost shortstop Al Dark for an indefinite period when X-rays revealed a pair of bone chips suffered when he was hit on the left hand by a pitched ball Sunday.

Five singles and an error pulled the Cubs from behind in the sixth at Pittsburgh to shorten the night for Max Surkont, Darius Hillman, Hal Jeffcoat and Howie Pollet, combined in relief to save Warren Hacker's sixth victory.

Fred Hatfield's homer off reliever Tom Sturdivant gave Ned Garver his first triumph over the Yankees in six years. Eddie Robinson smacked a two-run homer and Joe Collins a bases-empty clout for the Yanks.

Rookie Herb Score didn't survive the first inning against the Red Sox as Ted Williams hit a two-run double. But after Cleveland tied it at 3-all in their half of the frame to chase Mel Parnell, Boston got four runs in the fourth off loser Al Houtteman to win it for George Susce.

Three runs in the ninth—with Bill Wilson's three-base error letting the lead run score—broke up Alex Kellner's shutout and won for the Senators in the opener at Kansas City. Mickey McDermott gave 13 hits and walked six in the nightcap, but hung on for his fifth victory.

Carlos Paula, Washington outfielder, reached across and hit a sacrifice fly in the second game as rookie Art Ceccarelli attempted to give him an intentional walk.

Welterweights
Are Ready For A Title Bout

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—With two days to go for their title fight, welterweight champion Tony DeMarco and challenger Carmen Basilio were well within the 147-pound limit and faced only with the minor problem of keeping their edge.

Both finished their boxing drills yesterday for the 15-round Friday night.

DeMarco, the squat, 23-year-old Bostonian, wound up his sparring by going three rounds with Irvin Steen in a brisk workout at his resort camp at Monticello, N.Y.

DeMarco boxed a total of 51 rounds since hitting camp.

"Tony's ready to go now," said trainer Sammy Fuller, a former welterweight boxer. "He's going to win—and by a knockout."

DeMarco weighed 145, just about what he expects to scale for his first title defense. He hit the beam at 145½ when he stopped Johnny Saxton in 14 rounds April 1 to win the crown.

Some light gym work today and road work tomorrow morning will complete his training. He plans to fly from his camp to Syracuse tomorrow afternoon.

Basilio has been well within the 147-pound limit for some time. He had difficulty cutting down to the weight when he fought Kid Gavilan for the title on Sept. 18, 1953. The 28-year-old ex-Marine from nearby Canastota floored the Cuban, then the champion, and lost a disputed 15-round decision.

After finishing his boxing with three rounds against two sparring partners, Tony Percey and Harry Deputy, the local pride and joy scaled 145. He has boxed over 200 rounds in getting set for his second title shot and has been under the 147-pound limit for more than a month.

Little League Games
Star Pitching Duels

Able to continue the Little League schedule after several postponements due to rain, the major league teams squared away Tuesday evening at Liberty Park in two games which were highlighted by individual performances.

The opener pitted the Lions against the Adco club with the Lions' pitcher, Jimmy Cairnes, sparking a 8-0 victory over Adco giving up only two hits. With a clicking field behind him, Cairnes, walked only two, was never in trouble and stayed in for the full game.

Griggs, the starter for Adco, and Bullard, his relief had trouble settling down and together allowed 10 walks.

Anderson collected two hits for the Lions, a double and a single, taking the batting honors for the evening.

In the second game the fans witnessed another two hitter as the Optimists took the Ice and Cold Storage club 4-1.

Bryan handled the mound chores for the Optimists.

Lincoln Softball Team
Seeking Competition

A boys' independent softball team has been organized in Lincoln and is now seeking to schedule games with any boys' softball teams in Sedalia.

The Lincoln town team, as they call themselves, has spent much time in regular practice during the past three weeks and feel they are ready to cross bats with any Sedalia teams.

Ray Nelson, manager, has requested that any Sedalia teams wishing to schedule games with the Lincoln aggregation to call him at 62 or 102 in Lincoln. The Lincolns are hoping to get a game scheduled for this Friday night, either in Sedalia or at Lincoln. The Lincoln softballers have a lighted diamond this year and will be able to play their games either away or on their own field.

Arcaro Tries to Equal
Belmont Stakes Score

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Arcaro, who has ridden more Kentucky Derby and Preakness winners than any other jockey, will take dead aim on his sixth Belmont stakes Saturday with Nashua.

The 39-year-old Cincinnati booter needs another victory to tie him with Jimmy McLaughlin, the old-timer who won six Belmonts in a period from 1882 to 1888.

Arcaro is tied with Earl Sande among modern day riders of Belmont winners, and the Belair Stud Nashua is expected to be a heavy odds-on favorite in the 87th running of the great 3-year-old classic.

The probable starters include Hilton A. (Rabbit) Dabson's Nance's Lad, Howard Weinstein's Mr. Al L., and Flying Fury, from the Cain Hoy Stable of Harry F. Guggenheim.

Moberly Beats
Chiefs; Fourth
Season Loss

The Sedalia Chiefs took it on the chin for the fourth loss of the season, Tuesday night at Liberty Park, when the Moberly Miners scored a 4-1 victory. It was another Ban Johnson game of the Central Missouri League, and played in somewhat chilly weather.

The Chiefs were cold at the plate in absorbing this loss of the first half of the season play of the League.

Ken Buhlig pitched for the Chiefs and did a creditable job however he was rather wild and his free passes resulted in several of the runs which Moberly scored. He struck out eight while he walked seven and was replaced on the mound in the 9th by Billy Arnold when he walked the first two men to face him. Arnold allowed a base hit to the first man to come up against him and then promptly retired the side by himself, striking out two and throwing out the other man at first.

The Chiefs had seven hits including a triple by Bobby Case which scored Burton with their only run in the third inning, and doubles by Fall and Mines. Case had another base hit and Burton had one while Don Barbour had a pair in four trips to the plate.

Foster Sadler, the leading pitcher in the league last year hurled for Moberly and was tough with men on base.

The next home attraction will occur on Sunday when the Chiefs meet Mexico's Ramblers in a doubleheader starting at 6:30.

The team will play at Columbia this Thursday night and will leave from Ralph Hamlin's at 5:30 sharp.

IGA Tournament
Is Top in Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—Every entrant in the $150,000 International Golf Tournament, opening here tomorrow, will go home with a bulging wallet.

Prize money totals $11,800 but an additional $25,000 will be distributed in honorariums—$500 to each of the 50 participating players.

Also, the sponsoring International Golf Assn. will put up $45,000 to buy roundtrip tickets here for each entrant.

Players from 26 countries will compete in the 72-hole event which winds up on Sunday. The third such international competition, it is the first held in the United States.

Defending champions Peter Thomson and Kel Nagle of Australia are favored to repeat.

The IGA, which calls the meeting the world's richest golf tournament, expects to spend $70,000 for living expenses, caddy fees and administrative costs to make up the $150,000 total.

Top prize of $2,500 and an international trophy goes to the individual with the best score for the 72 holes.

Hornets Walk
Over Adco Blues
In Five Innings

The Sedalia Softball Industrial League had the big upset of the season Tuesday night when the Hudson Hornets went on a rampage and trounced upon the Adco Blues 21 to 4 cutting the game off in the fifth inning. The second game resulted in a forfeit when the Kilowatts showed up with only part of the team and the De Molays were declared the winner.

The DeMolays desiring a practice session picked on the tired out Hornets and the fresh players of the DeMolays won a seven-inning practice session 6 to 2.

Raybourn, the losing pitcher, gave up 12 hits, 12 walks and 12 runs, and his relief Fisher walked one man, Watson then took charge of the mound and gave up six hits and four walks and nine runs.

Phillips the victorious hurler allowed but three hits, walked four, and gave up four runs.

"Red" Richardson had three hits for five trips to the plate, including a grand slam circuit drive, a double and a triple. Tucker had three for four, two doubles and a single. Every man on the team had at least one hit. Kindel, Darrah, Brownfield, Steele all had two hits while Revis, Hudson and Phillips tallied one each.

Wall, See and Fisher had one hit each for the Blues.

Line score:—

Hornets.....315 48-21 17 2
Blues.....004 00-4 3 5

In the practice game Redmond was the winning pitcher for the DeMolays while Kindel was the loser.

Yoeman homered for the winners.

T&C Softball Team
Loses Game at Fulton

The Town and Country Girls Softball Club journeyed to Fulton Tuesday evening where in a night game they lost by the close score of 3 to 2.

West for Fulton was the winning pitcher with Walz of the T and C's loser. Both teams, as the score indicates played "airtight" ball. In hitting Betty Phillips led for the Sedalia club. The score was 2 to 0 favoring Fulton up to the seventh inning when the Sedalia girls tied it up, necessitating an extra frame with Fulton putting across the leading score.

Riepen Makes His Third Bid
In State Amateur Golf Play

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Twice-champion Warren Riepen of St. Joseph today started his bid for a third state amateur men's golf title as match play opened.

Riepen, 42, a carpenter, gained medalist honors yesterday with a 35-36-71, one over par, for the first time in his 15 tournaments. He won the state title in 1948 and 1950.

Five men came in with 72s in the qualifying rounds. They were Bill Stewart, Springfield, the 1953 champion; Paul Leslie of Jefferson City; Johnny Schopf, Joplin; Bill Bogges and Bill Webb of Kansas City.

In a business meeting last night the Missouri Golf Assn. elected Bob Cochran, St. Louis, president; Carroll Ellis, Springfield, vice president, and reelected Elliott M. Whitbread, St. Louis, secretary-treasurer.

These Beliefs
Are Difficult
For Digestion

NEW YORK (AP)—We have found it difficult over the years to credit some of the more hallowed traditions and time-honored beliefs associated with the world of sports. For instance, we seriously doubt:

That any pitcher has yet gone into the ninth inning without being fully conscious that he was working a no-hit game.

That the race horse has yet been foaled who "looked a rival in the eye" down the stretch and knew what all the hullabaloo was about when they brought him back to the winner's circle. They run because they love to run, bub.

That the old-time ballplayers made a practice of squirting bad spike wounds full of tobacco juice and went right on playing as though nothing had happened.

That wrestling matches between the giants of the sport 30-40 years ago invariably were honest tests of strength and skill. (We've been told differently.)

That there has yet been a college president who believed it was just a happy coincidence that so many exceptional football players suddenly bobbed up at his institution.

That Ty Cobb, were he playing today, could steal between 60 and 90 bases a season or make a practice of circling the sacks on a common single. We'd still have to see it.

That any golfer, with the National Open title at stake, ever stepped up to a four-foot putt on the 72nd hole and "calmly" rammed it into the cup. You just can't see him shake.

Offers Footnote on Game Of Labor-Management Talks

DETROIT (AP)—Footnotes on a multimillion-dollar poker game called labor-management negotiations.

General Motors provides the tables and the canapes. The UAW-CIO provides the competition. Both sides bring their own cards.

They square off daily in a 35-foot-long conference room of the GM building—two 20-man lines on opposite sides of a long table. The union faces the windows and evidently doesn't object to the light in its eyes. During the Ford hassle, they insisted on alternating sides.

Hatmaker Due As Witness; Signs Check

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chicago hat maker Harry Lev, who swears he never bribed government procurement officers, was called back today for more questioning by a Senate subcommittee after signing a $5,089.38 "restitution" check as evidence of good faith.

Subcommittee aides said Lev would be asked more about alleged bribes and about his relations with Mrs. Mella Hort, a striking former government worker who supervised some of his contract dealings with the armed services.

The 52-year-old Lev, terming these relations "social," yesterday begged the investigators not to press him further on that point.

Specifically, the aides said Lev would be questioned about prior hearsay testimony by Leon M. Levy, a New York business rival of Lev, that Mrs. Hort tried to blackmail Lev for $15,000 to stay silent about some allegedly unusual and profitable aspects of Lev's government contracts. Mrs. Hort has denied the blackmail allegations under oath.

Lev signed the check — to show "I'm no chiseler"—after he was confronted with testimony that he got a 1951 government contract to make 169,646 garrison caps at 21 cents apiece—3 cents more than his final bid.

Lev said that disclosure "really strikes me like a ton on the head." He said he thought government contract officers may have made "an honest mistake" which he did not notice and that the government was entitled to a refund.

Whereupon Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the investigations subcommittee produced a check made out to the government for $5,089.38 and suggested Lev make good on the spot. Lev signed with a flourish. McClellan said he would forward the check to the proper authorities.

The subcommittee is searching for evidence of possible graft in connection with government contracts awarded to Lev and others for uniform caps and other clothing items for the armed forces.

Lev told about gifts to Mrs. Hort of $300 in clothing in 1953 when she was supervising his contracts in New York armed services procurement headquarters.

He swore yesterday he never bribed any government employee to get a contract. He denied he had paid $50,000 or any other sum to Air Force Capt. Raymond Wool, who formerly headed military clothing procurement activities in New York.

Wool, who has denied getting bribes, is confined by the Air Force at Wright - Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, pending further investigation of his story.

Meanwhile, the subcommittee made public previous closed-door testimony in which Mrs. Wool, the Air Force captain's wife, denied Levy's contention that Lev had paid her $5,000 for her husband. She said she knew about no money ever paid the captain by Lev.

The union boys generally wear open sports shirts while GM usually clings to tie and suit coats. It's quite a sight, watching union delegates in bright Hawaiian shirts rushing down the hall carrying those shiny leather cases. Kinda like the State Department going Hollywood.

GM has its caucus room off the north end of the conference room. It provides the UAW with a caucus chamber off the south end. Such has been the progress of labor-management relations, that the union is confident its phones aren't tapped nor its private room wired. They bite into GM sandwiches without a chemical analysis.

When the Ford contract, which put GM on the spot, was announced, one GM vice president was heard to grumble: "Why didn't they also give them the rotunda (Ford's tourist show-place)?"

Before a recent session, the union men found on their side of the table various editions of the same doodle. It showed a man with a big smile, an apple on his head and an arrow sticking in his forehead. The caption: "Have faith. Keep smiling."

At the start of the next session, GM negotiators found the same doodle reproduced on a huge blackboard at one end of the room. The same, except that the man, this time, was labeled "GM."

A tenant complained to the management of the GM Building about reporters playing poker in the hall. "I took this office to impress my clients," he said. "And what do they see? A bunch of bums playing cards!" The press got their own room.

At conferences as complicated as these, mistakes will happen. Thus, during the Ford sessions, CIO President Walter Reuther once walked through the wrong door and found himself behind a bar. And him not a member of the barkeeps union.

Respect from Texas

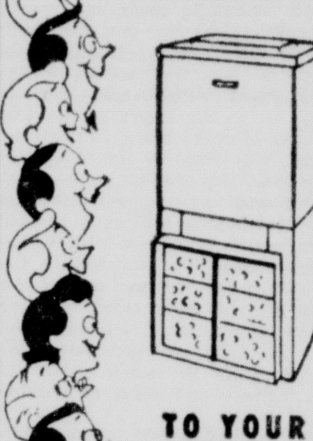

KING AND QUEEN COURT-HOUSE, Va. (AP)—You expect to hear about big things in Texas, but a Texan can tell you about some big things in Virginia.

The Texan is Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House of Representatives. He came off second best in a battle with a black bass at the King and Queen Rod and Gun Club here. During the battle the fish surfaced and was plainly seen by the speaker and his companion, Rep. Prince Preston of Georgia. You'd expect the fish to be big after successfully battling a Texan—and it was.

RESOLUTION NO. 194

A RESOLUTION declaring it necessary to bring to the established grade and pave with a rock base not less than 4" after compacting, and prime and seal coated from curb to curb all that part of the roadway of West 18th Street, a public street within the City of Sedalia, Missouri, from the west line of Warren Avenue thence west to the east line of Limit Avenue, all public streets within the City of Sedalia, Missouri, at a cost not to exceed $125 per front foot, and the balance, if any, shall be charged to the City of Sedalia, Missouri.

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Council of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, as follows:

SECTION 1. The Council of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, finds, deems and hereby declares it to be necessary to bring to the established grade and pave with a rock base not less than 4" after compacting, and prime and seal coated from curb to curb, all that part of the roadway of West 18th Street, a public street within the City of Sedalia, Missouri, from the west line of Warren Avenue thence west to the east line of Limit Avenue, a public street within the City of Sedalia, Missouri, according to the plans and specifications to be prepared by the City Engineer of said City of Sedalia, and to be on file with the City Clerk of said City on or before the 23rd day of June, 1955.

SECTION 2. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City Engineer of said City shall prepare plans and specifications for said work and improvement, together with an estimate of the cost thereof, and shall file the same with the City Clerk of said City of Sedalia, on or before the 23rd day of June, 1955, for inspection by the public.

SECTION 3. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the cost of said improvement shall be paid by special assessment against the lots and lands fronting or abutting on either side of said part of West 18th Street, a public street within said city as aforesaid, to be so improved and on said improvement being completed, special tax bills shall be issued against said lots and lands chargeable with the cost of said improvement, and that the cost of bringing said part of said West 18th Street to the established grade shall be included in the special assessment for the paying for the bringing of said street to the established grade and paving all that part of the said West 18th Street in the manner and form as hereinbefore set forth, provided however, that the cost shall not exceed $125 per front foot against the lots and lands fronting or abutting on either side of said part of West 18th Street, and if said cost of the proposed work does exceed the sum of $125 per front foot, the balance, if any, shall be charged to the City of Sedalia, Missouri.

SECTION 4. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this resolution be published for seven consecutive insertions in a daily newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said City of Sedalia, Missouri.

Strict Control Of Age Limit For Employees

As schools close for the summer, employers, parents and teenagers were advised to get acquainted with the age limits on vacation jobs for young people as set by the Fair Labor Standards Act—the Federal Wage-Hour Law.

Walter W. King, regional director of the United States Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division, explained that certain rules workers engaged in interstate activities. He pointed out that minors must be at least 16 years of age to work in general occupations and over 18 for employment in hazardous jobs, such as motor vehicle driver or helper, elevator operator, and as operators of power-driven metal forming, paper cutting, and bakery machines. Mr. King emphasized that the Secretary of Labor has issued 12 hazardous jobs.

The child labor provision of the law permit the employment of 14 and 15-year-olds in nonmanufacturing jobs, such as in office, clerical or sales work, but their employment is limited to 8 hours a day and 40 hours a week when schools are closed, and three hours a day or 18 hours a week when schools are in session. However, these youngsters may not work before 7 a.m. or after 7 p.m. During school vacations, children of any age may work on farm jobs.

For more information regarding the child labor, minimum wage and overtime pay requirements of Federal Labor Laws, employers should communicate with the Division's office, 2000 Federal Office Building, Kansas City.

Another Jet Aircraft Being Made for Rapid Passenger Air Travel

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The Douglas Aircraft Co. plans a jet transport designed to cross the United States in 4½ hours and span the Atlantic in 6½ hours.

The jet-powered DC8 will be in the air by December 1957, Donald W. Douglas, president of the company, said yesterday. He said deliveries to airlines should begin in 1959.

Douglas termed it America's first jet transport designed for passenger service. He said it would carry 80 to 125 passengers at top speeds in excess of 550 miles per hour.

Douglas is the second American company to enter the jet transport field. Boeing Airplane Co., of Seattle, flew its jet transport, the 707, last July. It was designed as a multipurpose tanker-transport, intended for commercial as well as military use.

Factory Wants Help Against Golf Hazard

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A manufacturing company wants Superior Court to protect it from bombardment by golf balls.

The Frito Co. plant adjoins the Manchester golf course and driving range. There's a fence between the properties, but it isn't golfball proof, the company's petition said yesterday.

The fence is in such a state of disrepair that balls pass right through, and, since July 1954, have shattered 13 window panes and a truck windshield, Frito attorneys said.

The firm's 180 employees are so leery of the danger, the suit asserts, that morale is dropping, hurting company business. For this the plant asks $15,000. It also asks the court for an injunction to end the alleged hazard.

New Traffic Device To Clear Way in Fire For Trucks Gets Test

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new electronic device for turning traffic signals red, automatically, as fire engines approach was demonstrated here.

Fire trucks had repeatedly roared through the intersection of Western and Florence Avenues to show that sirens weren't necessary—because electronic gear automatically halted traffic by changing the signals to red.

Then, before cameramen had a chance to leave, there came the sound of a siren. A real fire had been reported. Trucks and pumps sped toward the intersection, the traffic lights turned red, and all traffic halted. The fire equipment rolled through as cameras clicked.

Asst. Chief H. N. Johnson of Station 66 and officials of North American Aviation, which developed the electronic device, broke into grins. The first authentic tests of Natecs (North American Traffic Emergency Control System) had been a success.

Former Husband Charged in Fire Burning Children

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A jealous former husband was charged yesterday with the murder of four children who died in a burning house.

Detective Lt. James R. Beach said 33-year-old Amos Wilmer Thomas signed a statement saying he set the fire to get even with his former wife Annie Lee Thomas, two of whose children were killed in the blaze Friday night.

Thomas pleaded innocent at his arraignment, however, and asked for a preliminary hearing. No date was set.

Justice of the Peace Eugene G. Duckworth said three warrants charging murder in the perpetration of arson were filed. The warrants accuse Thomas of the deaths of Dewitt Roundtree, 10, and Linda Joyce Roundtree, 1, children of Mrs. Thomas; Eddie Lee Roundtree, 10, and Freddie Lee Roundtree, 4, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roundtree, grandparents of Dewitt and Linda Joyce.

Beach said Thomas, a Negro, told authorities he slipped into his former wife's bedroom, poured gasoline on the floor, ignited it

More Rain Splashing From Rockies East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More rain splashed over wide areas of the country from the Rockies eastward to the Atlantic Coast today.

General rainfall was reported from the Great Lakes region and middle Mississippi Valley eastward to the middle Atlantic Coast. Scattered showers fell from sections of the Great Plains and the Southeastern states.

Skies were cloudy over most of the Northeast, with some areas reporting rain, and along the southern California coast.

Fair weather prevailed in other parts of the country.

There was a heat wave in the Southwest desert region with temperatures climbing to 110 at several cities in southern California and Arizona yesterday.
